

Our products on the pictures – PBMA 120 while assembling

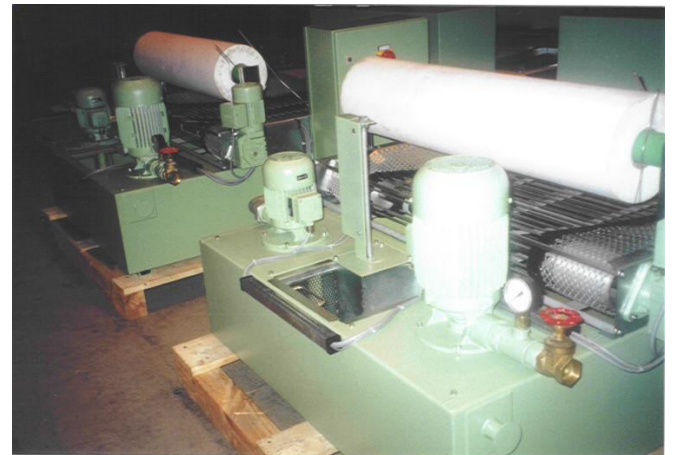

Our filter systems are produced by experienced workers. Most of these have many years of experience on the field of producing filter technics.

The series of three band filter systems shown on the picture above was produced for a famous German manufacturer of complete filter systems and was exported within the framework of a large project.

According to the specific needs of our costumers, filter, filter systems and filter systems with several filters are produced with special components, which correspond to the specific technical case of operation.

Meaningful documentations (available in a foreign language on request) make the installation and the technical servicing by own staff easier.

Our own servicing staff is of course also available for our costumers (in our home country in no longer than 24 hours).

A lot of spare parts and expendable items can be found in our stock, so that short delivery periods can be guaranteed.
